

BURKE THE WINNER

Decisive Victory for Former Mayor in Democratic Caucus.

His Ticket Defeated Leary Ticket Four to One, while Enright Ticket Was Almost Lost Sight Of in the Balloting.

James E. Burke carried the democratic caucus Tuesday by a four-to-one victory over the two other tickets, headed by J. J. Enright and M. G. Leary. Mr. Burke's total vote on State and district tickets approximated about 400. Mr. Leary averaged 94 and Mr. Enright had four votes on the State ticket and 11 votes on the district ticket. The victory in the caucus by Mr. Burke was clean cut and the outcome of the balloting was pretty generally conceded before the ballots were counted. Burke supporters voted all the afternoon and evening at about a 4 to 1 ratio. The Leary ticket polled a large vote, notwithstanding the fact that the voters were given to understand that in voting Tuesday they lost the opportunity to vote for the labor candidate for senator at the republican caucus on Saturday. The combined returns on the State and district delegates are as follows:

STATE CONVENTION DELEGATES.

	Burke, Enright, Leary.
Ward one	28	0
Ward two	48	0
Ward three	5	0
Ward four	20	0
Ward five	3	24
Ward six	32	1
Totals	196	24

DISTRICT CONVENTION DELEGATES.

	Leary, Enright, Burke.
Ward one	16	0
Ward two	9	37
Ward three	5	0
Ward four	18	0
Ward five	26	1
Ward six	17	53
Totals	81	91

The caucus was called at three o'clock. L. W. Johnson, chairman of the democratic city committee, was elected chairman of the caucus and William Powers secretary. There was a rush for the fourth ward ballot box at once, but after this died out the balloting was slow and easy during the afternoon.

As shown by the above tabulations, there were three tickets in the field. The city committee ticket, which was known as the "Enright ticket," and which was originally agreed upon by the committee and afterwards somewhat revised and requested printed by Mr. Enright, was as follows:

State convention delegates: J. J. Enright, A. C. Gebelke, J. Frank Kildier, J. Wilson, C. L. Remington, J. W. McCarthy, Joseph Frank, Oliver Dupuy, Fred LaTour, J. J. Childs, J. W. Courtney, George Maynard, V. A. Bullard, Joseph Mitchell, C. L. Dolan, C. Hayes, Philip Crowley, M. G. Leary, William Hiney, P. E. McSweeney, M. J. Daley, D. J. Nolan, J. W. Coffey, Frank Rafter.

Alternates: E. B. Corley, Arthur Childs, John Hogan, William Louth, O. E. Reynolds, H. J. McNally, J. P. Madigan, P. H. Walsh, G. N. Ginnard, J. W. Redmond, Oliver Adam, T. E. Dooley, J. O. Oscar Heininger, Joseph Fugere, John H. Clay, Frank Dwyer, W. J. McCabe, Louis Rush, R. J. Daley, J. S. Heffron, John L. Kelley, J. W. Daley, James Denning, Frank McCarthy.

The district delegates are the same as the alternates on the State ticket, and vice versa.

The "Burke ticket," which won in the caucus and which was sanctioned by Mr. Burke, was headed by L. W. Johnson. This ticket was requested printed by Thomas L. Howley. It is as follows:

Delegates to State convention—L. W. Johnson, J. E. Burke, J. E. Kelley, J. E. Meagher, J. J. Flynn, T. L. Howley, J. E. Dooley, J. A. Delaney, E. Rafter, George E. Maynard, M. McKenzie, M. J. Daley, John Quinn, E. C. Harrington, J. F. Kildier, F. E. Eldred, M. E. Sullivan, William Welch, J. E. Ruple, F. O. Sinclair, Joseph Mitchell, E. LaFontaine, Elias Spear, E. F. Murray.

Alternates—P. E. Roddy, J. O. Middlebrook, A. Gebelke, J. P. Madigan, J. M. Rush, J. J. Griffin, George Bouchard, J. A. Riley, W. P. Powers, Jules Simay, Peter Roddy, J. E. Maynard, J. E. Miles, E. F. Murray, P. D. Kelley, John Smith, E. W. Cooney, Joseph Frank, J. P. Cummings, J. J. McLaughlin, T. L. Conlon, E. B. Corley, M. Collins, Charles Crosby.

The "Leary ticket" was printed upon application by Mr. Leary and was as follows:

Delegates to State convention—M. G. Leary, H. H. Miller, J. F. Kildier, P. E. McSweeney, C. L. Remington, John J. Enright, William Hiney, John P. Clay, Oliver Dupuy, J. P. Madigan, Joseph Mitchell, D. J. Nolan, J. W. Coffey, Frank Rafter, V. A. Bullard, Howard S. Crane, John Quinn, Patrick Moran, William Smith, J. A. Kelley, Fred Fugere, C. T. Childs, William Powers, Philip Crowley.

Alternates—O. E. Reynolds, William Walker, Paul D. Kelley, P. E. Roddy, Van A. Nye, E. B. Corley, Charles Killam, Oliver Adam, Fred Fugere, J. W. Courtney, Oscar Heininger, John L. Kelley, James A. Riley, C. L. Dolan, R. J. Daley, W. D. McCabe, M. E. Sullivan, M. Benoit, J. O. Middlebrook, E. W. Cooney, T. E. Conlin, P. J. Griffin, L. J. Rush, T. P. Leperance.

Burke men were active throughout the voting, handing out Burke tickets, and the supporters of the various tickets had a number of lively clashes over the ballots in the hallways.

STATE Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Plans for Camp Abnaki at North Hero Well under Way.

The plans for Camp Abnaki for boys, at North Hero, conducted by the State committee, are well under way, and on June 20 Secretary Clark, accompanied by some of the leaders and the cook, will go to camp to prepare for the opening on June 27. The indications are that the attendance will be large, as applications and inquiries are being received from many towns. All boys who intend to go should send in their applications soon.

Employment Opportunity.

The Boston Elevated Railway Company has a continually expanding business and therefore is always able to place desirable young men in its employment, especially in its car service or train service. June is a most favorable time for entering the service. The opportunity for learning railway business is excellent. The Company operates underground, elevated and surface lines. The Company pays the best of wages and has a system of annual reward and support in old age, which is unequalled. A man may earn more than $20 per week, but $12 per week is guaranteed.

Detailed information can be obtained as to this employment by addressing J. E. RUGG, Superintendent of Employment, 153 Milk Street, Boston.

The Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Vermont Tuesday elected Frank L. Clark of Rutland as right eminent grand commander of the order, and chose other officers as follows: Very eminent deputy grand commander—William H. Brewster of Middlebury. Eminent grand generalissimo—Olin W. Daley of White River Junction. Eminent grand captain general—Edward L. Bates of Bennington. Eminent grand senior warden—Frank B. Putnam of Brattleboro. Eminent grand junior warden—Elroy B. Whitaker of Barre. Eminent grand prelate—Alfred J. Hough of Proctorville. Eminent grand treasurer—Frank Adams of Bellows Falls. Eminent grand recorder—Henry H. Ross of Burlington.

CASTLETON STATE SCHOOL.

Session Will Open July 9—List of 11 Regular Instructors.

The State summer school to be held at Castleton will open Tuesday morning, July 9, and continue for two weeks. There will be 11 regular instructors as follows: Principal John G. Thompson of the Fitchburg State normal school, a course of one week on practical pedagogy; Supt. C. H. Brown of Wallingford, rural school problems; Miss Beatrice Briggs, now connected with the schools of Milton, Mass., drawing and design work, paper and cardboard construction, basketry, etc.; Mrs. P. Wellington Briggs of Rutland, four talks on stories and story telling; Miss Ethel V. Coolidge, now in New York city, will have charge of the music and will illustrate and teach what can actually be done with music in the rural schools; Supt. F. A. Bagnall of Adams, Mass., a teacher and superintendent for many years, courses in arithmetic, history and geography; Miss Mary C. Gaffney of West Rutland, a graduate of the Palmer system of penmanship, 20 lessons illustrating how to teach the muscular movement in writing; State Supt. of Education Mason S. Stone, two addresses on practical topics; Dr. C. L. Leonard, principal of Troy Conference Academy, one or two addresses and possibly a stereopticon lecture; Supt. D. B. Locke of Rutland, school administration; spelling and grammar by Supt. C. A. Adams of Castleton.

A member of the State Board of Health will probably be present for one address. It is planned to give five model lessons illustrating primary, intermediate and grammar work, valuable because actual lessons with actual children.

Miss Ida Lacey of the Castleton training and normal school will give 10 lessons in geography and methods of teaching geography and 10 lessons on intermediate grade, English and nature study.

The primary work will be in charge of a teacher of wide experience and training and one who knows the conditions that must be met by teachers. These desiring further information should address Charles A. Adams, Castleton.

ROYAL AND SELECT MASTERS

A Membership of 1,478, Distributed among 17 Councils.

At the annual meeting of the grand council of Royal and Select Masters of Vermont Tuesday evening, Olin W. Daley of White River Junction was elected most illustrious grand master. Other officers were chosen as follows:

Deputy grand master—Charles T. S. Pierce of Vergennes. Grand principal conductor of work—Perris B. Vaughan of Brattleboro. Grand treasurer—Charles H. Heaton of Montpelier (re-elected). Grand recorder—Henry H. Ross of Burlington (re-elected). Grand captain of guard—Dana S. Brown of Springfield. Grand conductor—Frederick H. Babbitt of Bellows Falls. Grand chaplain—Deane S. Bliss of Burlington.

Grand lecturer—Harley T. Seaver of Barton. Grand marshal—Frank J. Hubbard of Middlebury. Grand steward—Charles A. Lang of Montpelier. Grand sentinel—William H. Folsom of Burlington (re-elected).

The officers were installed by Past Grand Master David A. Elliott of White River Junction.

The amendment to fix the Wednesday following the second Tuesday in October as the time of the annual assembly of the council was acted upon and dismissed. Up to the present time it has not been customary to confer the past grand master's jewel upon the retiring head of the council, but it was voted to adopt the practice in 1912.

The report of Grand Recorder Henry H. Ross showed a total membership of 1,478, distributed among 17 councils. During the past year 33 masters have died, but the result is a net gain of 48.

The attendance at both gatherings yesterday was large, about 80 being present.

BRADSTREET'S WEEKLY VERMONT TRADE REPORT

Reports to Bradstreet's for the week show labor is fairly well employed in nearly all lines, except in certain places. Among the machine interests reports show new business is coming in well. Marble manufacturers, also granite men, report the volume of business has grown and an improvement noted with collections. With the slate interests the situation is said not changed much. Garment manufacturers are reasonably well supplied with orders. Considerable new building work is under way in different sections of the State and the demand for lumber still holds firm. The output of dairies is increasing. Farmers report low lands in the northern part of the State are still too wet to afford good planting conditions. The continued rains of the week have had a noticeable effect on both farm work and general business. Clearance sales have been quite general among the retail merchants in dry-goods and clothing, and have been reasonably well attended. Wholesalers report most lines are moving fairly well but collections are still reported more or less slow.

Burlington retail merchants report unseasonable weather has restricted trade some. Manufacturing lines are fairly well employed while the outlook for summer business is said reasonably good. At Rutland manufacturing plants are well employed and retail merchants note some improvement in trade although the rain of the past week has interfered with trade. St. Albans reports labor is well employed and retail merchants state volume of trade is about normal. St. Johnsbury plants are well employed. Hay crop in this section bids fair to be one of the largest they have had for some time as grass is growing rapidly. Montpelier and Barre manufacturing interests are reasonably well employed among the granite manufacturers. Other towns note a good business. The manufacturing interests at Bellows Falls are well employed and general retail trade good, considering condition. The crops in this section are said doing well. At Brattleboro all manufacturers are well employed and the retail merchants note some improvement. Considerable new building work is under way. Bennington reports labor well employed and the condition of crops better than they were for the same period last year.

GOSS-HERRINGTON.

Wisconsin Young Man Comes to Burlington for a Bride.

The wedding of Miss Alice Van Namee Herrington, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Herrington, to John Warren Goss of Marinette, Wis., was solemnized Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the family residence at 24 South Union street. The ceremony, performed by the Rev. George Y. Bliss, pastor of St. Paul's Church, took place in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends. The house was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and flowers, and the large front piazza was enclosed. Burton's orchestra of five pieces, with Miss Nash at the piano, played on the piazza. The ceremony was performed in the living room to the right of the entrance. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride was groomed in white Kreisel headed net over white meteor satin. Her veil was of tulle and was caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was Miss Julie Brown of Boston. She wore yellow meteor satin trimmed with old lace and carried a bouquet of yellow marguerites. The bridesmaids wore white dresses with yellow tulle sashes and carried bouquets of buttercups and ferns. The groom had as his best man Edson D. Fuller of New York, his fraternity brother.

At 8:30 following the ceremony a reception was held to which additional guests had been invited. Those who received were Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Hemstreet of Herkimer, N. Y., Dr. and Mrs. Royce D. Fry of Cleveland, Ohio, ex-Governor and Mrs. E. J. Ormsbee of Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of New York, Mr. L. W. Forth of Burlington, N. Y., J. Howard Mark of Herkimer, N. Y., Miss Julie Brown of Boston, Miss Katherine Yates of Brooklyn, N. Y., Miss Helen Patne of Marblehead, Mass., and Herbert R. Pierce of Washington, D. C.

From the stairway the bride threw her bouquet and it was caught by Miss Mae Brigham.

Mr. and Mrs. Goss left on the 10:50 train for New York. They will be at home after June 18 at 712 Marlborough avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Goss is the purchasing agent and traffic manager for the Prescott Sawmill Machinery company of Monmouth, Mich. He attended the University of Vermont for three years and is a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity. The bride was graduated from Burlington high school in the class of 1905 and later from the Middlebury school in Cleveland, Ohio. They received many very beautiful and valuable presents.

WEDDED AT NOON.

Dr. M. H. Platt and Miss Dorothy Pope Married at Bride's Home.

At noon Tuesday Miss Dorothy Van Vleet Pope and Dr. Marden Henry Platt, formerly of this city, but now a practicing physician at Riverside, R. I., were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. McConnell of 123 Bank street. The Rev. C. J. Staples performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives and intimate friends. The house was decorated by Peters, the florist, who used palms and wild flowers. Music was by Miss Nash and Mr. Barton.

The bride was groomed in white lace over white messaline, with pearl trimmings. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. The maid of honor was Miss Marion Morgan of this city. She wore white lingerie dress and carried pink sweet peas. The groom had his brother-in-law, Sherman R. Moulton, as his best man.

In the dining room the Misses Ruth Chamberlain, May Crane, Mildred Woodbury, Florence Taggart, Madeleine Burgess, Ethel Gristenwaite, Mary Parkhill and Blanche Fattig served. Those present from out of town were Mrs. J. V. Webster of Salem, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Benson F. Van Vleet of Boston, Mrs. C. A. Boomhower of Plattsburgh, N. Y., Mrs. Clarence Moulton and Miss Moulton of Randolph, and Herbert R. Hemick of Riverside, R. I.

Dr. and Mrs. Platt left on the afternoon boat for a two weeks automobile trip through the Adirondacks. They will be at home at 112 Bullocks Point avenue, Riverside, R. I., July 1. They were the recipients of many very beautiful presents.

WHAT SHE WANTED.

Congressman Jim Mann was on his way back from Chicago, and couldn't help hearing the conversation of the couple in the section right behind him. They had just newly married folks, but were not on their honeymoon, as Mann learned by deduction. The woman laid down a newspaper she had been reading and said to her husband:

"Do you know, I wish I had one of these afflictions. Oh, I think it would be just grand to sit on a rock with some oldy and have him rave about the incomparable golden color of my hair and tell me that my eyes were the most beautiful, and—"

"Oh, huh," said the husband.

"That's the delicate pink of my cheeks had been a splendid thing by the angels, and that he couldn't live without me. O-oh, I think an affliction like that would be—"

"Isn't an affliction you want," interrupted her husband. "What you seem to want is a plain, old-fashioned harp."—National Monthly.

QUITE WILLING.

Banker (to his daughter's suitor)—Please tell me frankly, are you marrying me for my money?

Suitor—Oh no, not at all. In fact that's one reason why I've been so long about it. He thought I was a hindrance to me. Banker—You're quite willing to take the hindrance?—Suppose?—Fliegende Blätter.

MASONIC WEEK OPENED

Vermont Council of Deliberation in Annual Session.

Commander-in-Chief Refers to Deaths during the Year of Judge A. A. Hall and Col. G. O. Tyler—Vermont Consistory Meeting.

Monday marked the opening of Masonic week in Burlington, when the Vermont Council of Deliberation, A. A. S. R., met at the rooms of the rite at two o'clock. Reports of officers and committees were read and an address was delivered by Marsh O. Perkins of Windsor, commander-in-chief. Deputy Perkins reported the year a prosperous one although no new bodies were established during the year. The membership increase was above the average. The deputy reported on visitations during the year and in conclusion he made due acknowledgments of courtesies extended to him by the brethren of the various organizations. Reference was made by the deputy to the great loss by death sustained by the fraternity during the year.

Among the most prominent members to pass over were Judge Alfred A. Hall and Col. George O. Tyler. Both were members of the Northern Vermont Council of Scottish Rite. The latter was for many years a resident of Burlington and was widely known throughout the State. He was at the time of his death the oldest of the active members of the supreme council in continuous service, having held the office of grand captain of the grand lodge since 1879. Mr. Tyler was often referred to as the "father of the Scottish Rite" in Vermont, and for many years was especially active in establishing bodies of the rite in the State. His death occurred in West Somerville, Mass., October 11, 1911, and he was buried in the family lot in the cemetery at Lowell, Mass. Few men had a greater knowledge of the history, philosophy and usage of Masonry than did Colonel Tyler.

A sketch in memoriam of Judge A. A. Hall was read by Gen. Leo S. Tillotson.

The afternoon session, which closed about five o'clock, was devoted to other routine business and the following officers were elected:

Commander-in-chief—Marsh O. Perkins, Windsor.

First lieutenant commander—Hamilton S. Peck, Burlington.

Second lieutenant commander—Olin W. Daley, White River Junction.

Grand minister of state—Silas H. Danforth, St. Albans.

Grand chancellor—George F. Root, Newport.

Grand prior—Charles A. Chapman, Ferrisburgh.

Grand treasurer—Charles W. Whitcomb, Proctorville.

Grand secretary—Henry H. Ross, Burlington.

Grand master of ceremonies—George H. Reynolds, Windsor.

Grand hospitaler—Raymond L. Soule, Burlington.

Grand senechal—Edward L. Bates, Bennington.

Grand standard bearer—Elroy B. Whitaker, Barre.

Grand captain of the guard—Frank L. Clark, Rutland.

Grand sentinel—Albert Killam, Burlington.

The officers were duly installed.

At the conclusion of the business session the 24th degree was worked by Vermont Consistory, which was followed by refreshments in the banquet hall. At the evening session, which opened at 7:30 o'clock, the 31st degree was worked by Vermont Consistory, H. Herbert B. Small exemplifying the degree. A large

CIRCUS COMING JUNE 20.

Downie & Wheeler's Show and Its Army of People.

When one considers that with Downie & Wheeler's Big Double Circus, which is to visit this city Thursday, June 20, there are hundreds of people employed, and that of these there are blacksmiths, painters, carpenters, barbers, laundrymen, doctors, a lawyer, detectives, cooks, trainmen, butchers, waiters, seamstresses, harness makers, musicians, shoe makers, a postmaster, hostlers, electricians, and many other mechanics and artisans besides the performers, all jumbled together and working for a common interest, the task of organizing this traveling city seems the most wonderful feature of the institution. In Downie & Wheeler's winter quarters, the home of these new giant shows, the work of organizing the circus began last September. The important thing is to engage the acts, and this is done by agents of the show, who, during the winter, visit the amusement halls of Europe and Asia in search of novelties. Meantime, in the ring barns the trainers are putting the various animal acts into shape. A few weeks before the season begins the various performers who have been resting during the winter arrive to practice their acts, that they may be perfected by the time the regular rehearsals begin, and all winter the sound of the animal and the mallet is heard at the circus quarters. Meantime, the advertising men have started out in advance, while the various contracting agents are on their way, arranging for circus lots and billboard space, etc. Then there is the 24-hour man, who is a story in himself. He gets his title from being 24 hours ahead of the show, arranging for wood, water, food and ice, besides attending to many other matters that have arisen. Everything about the Downie & Wheeler's Combined Shows has been so systematized that it is like a great clock. All sorts of obstacles are overcome daily with no boasting. Every day brings some new problem to solve, but when daylight appears the great canvas tops are undulating in the breeze and everybody is ready for the parade.

INSURANCE DISCUSSED.

President of Casualty Company Gives Banquet to Officers and Agents.

Dr. J. H. Judkins of Northfield, president of the Farview Casualty company, gave a banquet of 50 covers to the officers and agents of the company at the New Sherwood House at nine o'clock Monday night. Secretary of State Guy W. Bailey of Essex Junction was toastmaster, and the speakers included Frank L. Place of Barre, general manager of the company, and a number of others. The dining room was tastefully decorated and music was furnished throughout the evening by Haggar's orchestra, assisted by Mrs. Ella Hodges.

Topics of interest to insurance men were discussed by the speakers at the banquets. The dinner was preceded by a meeting of the officers and agents, held at 5:30, which included a school of instruction.
